Town council shake up

TWO former town councillors missed out on retaining their seats by just SIX votes as strong competition forced a major shake up at the local elections.

both being Despite elected as West Dorset District Councillors for the first time, Conservative Councillors Keith Day and Frances McKenzie both missed out on retaining their town council seats by the narrowest of margins.

Liberal Democrat Councillor John Hunt also fell short of being re-elected and, with four previous town councillors choosing not to stand for re-election, this left room for seven new councillors, who were sworn in on Monday night.

Polling the highest number of votes of all the newly elected town councillors was Liberal Democrat Lauren Glover.

At 22-years-old Councillor Glover is the town's youngest ever councillor and hopes to represent the youth of the town.

By Tom Glover

"There wasn't anyone on the council of my age group and I know a lot of younger children because I work with them through theatre companies and at Colfox school, so I thought I would be a good person to be on the council to share their views," she

"I was surprised to get so many votes, I thought being younger could go against me because I don't have the experience but I just wanted people to give me the chance.

"I'd like to thank everyone who voted for me, I'm really pleased that I'm on the council and I'm now going to prove to you that it was worth your vote."

The other newly elected councillors are Gillian Summers, Edward Colfox and Anne-Marie Vincent in the South Ward.

In the North Ward, Councillor Glover is joined by Charles Councillors Michell, Julian May and Gillian Massey.

Polling the highest number of votes overall, 751, was Liberal Democrat Councillor Ros Kayes. Councillor Kayes was also re-elected as a district councillor.

"I was completely surprised to top the poll given that south ward is a third bigger again than the north it means the councillors there usually get a much bigger vote - so I feel very proud," she said.

"When you get a vote like that it's in fact scary because you know you mustn't let people down.

"Regardless of what's going on nationally, people have said a big 'yes' to our town council and how it is

"We have new ideas and projects - but we also have to finish delivering on the old ones. For me, it's imperative that the promise of Spirit of Bridport must be fulfilled - and that will be a lot of hard work.

"We also have a lot of really positive new blood councillors who will really pull their weight - and people like Lauren Glover, Anne-Marie Vincent and Eddie Colfox have inspiring new ideas. I know this will make a big impact watch this space.'

Chairman of Bridport Conservatives, Keith Day, was up beat about the results despite narrowly missing out on re-election to the town council.

He said: "The results for the town council were a little disappointing, with Conservatives managing to retain the four seats they had, but failing to add more as they had hoped.

"At the district council level it was a much better result. It is quite clear that when it comes to decisionmaking bodies, Conservatives are the most trusted.

"The Conservative majority at the district council has grown and nationally Conservatives consolidated previous local government gains and increased the number of councillors returned over-

"A change in personnel is not a bad thing with fresh faces bringing fresh ideas. However, I would hope to see from the new council a look back to the past where members of minor parties and others are given a fair share of the spoils, because I believe the general public is looking for this!

"As for myself and plans, I intend to continue from when I was first elected putting the people and their concerns and problems before politics."

The only casualty in the town at district level was Councillor Karl Wallace who vowed to come back fighting after losing his

"I may have missed out on the district council but I'm still on the county council, town council and the parish council so I will be very busy," he said.

"More ideas are going to come forward, old problems will come back and there will be other problems which we may not be aware of yet. We are going to continue to work hard and we're going to tighten up our tempo a notch.

"I'd like to say congratulations to Frances McKenzie for being elected as a district councillor. Of course I'm disappointed but you haven't seen the last of me yet."

Thin outside of the box

WITH more than 30 years experience in the travel industry Sue Langdon, of Your World Travel in Lyme Regis, is the person to ask for your holiday tips.

After leaving school Sue spent six months working in a Pottery before beginning a career in the travel industry in 1979. Sue has been working at Your World Travel in Lyme Regis since 1985.

Sue lives in South Chard with her partner Ivor and their German Shepherd dog Molly.

This week Sue gave us her top destination tips for your 2011 summer holiday and also told us which "dishy" local celebrity she would like to have round for dinner.

WHAT is the top holiday destination for this year?

Greece is very popular, it's great value for money. We have Bermuda Day coming up on May 24th so we will be doing some special deals for that.

WHAT are the up and coming holiday destina-

Croatia is becoming quite popular because it is noneuro. Cape Verde, is quite a new destination. It's on the same latitude as Barbados but it's not as long a flight as Barbados so that is becoming popular.

WHAT are your favourite holiday destina-

I've been to Bermuda twice, Barbados, Mexico, and quite a lot of places in the Med. When I went to America we drove from Arizona all the way up through, past the Grand Canyon, to San Francisco. That was a really good trip.

ANYWHERE you'd still like to visit?

Yeah, loads of places. I'd like to go to New Zealand, I'd like to do Canada and I'd like to visit Italy as well.

DO you think people are cutting back on their holidays this year?

No I don't think so. People still want a holiday, they've still got to take the kids somewhere, whether it's this country or abroad. I think people are more likely to not bother with the new kitchen or not bother upgrading the car, but they still want their hol-

WHAT are best UK destinations?

You can do Cornwall, the Lake District. We've got self-catering chalets, holiday parks, posh hotels, luxury breaks, spa breaks, golf breaks, all sorts. Boating holidays and holidays on canal boats are popular.

■ WHERE do you like to walk your dog?

We go up Lambert's Castle quite a lot, There are some woods near Forde Abbey which we go to sometimes. We live on an old farm so we've got quite a lot of land ourselves.

■ WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party?

I would like to invite Johnny Depp because he's gorgeous, Gino D'acampo - to cook a fab meal and entertain us and I just love the Italian accent, and Martin Clunes because he's an animal lover like me, and quiet dishy too.

WHAT was the last book you read, film you watched and CD you listened to?

The last book I read, which I'm still reading actually, is The Brightest Star in the Sky by Marian Keyes. The last film I watched was my favourite film, the Green Mile. The last CD I listened to was Lady Gaga.

Bridport radio station to hit airwaves next year

BRIDPORT FM, a new radio station aiming to celebrate local talent and bridge the generational gap, will have its launch event in Bridport next week.

The project will run throughout 2011 and early 2012 before culminating in a weeklong temporary radio station in February of next year. Volunteers will be given free training and be allowed to get involved in all aspects of programme making.

by Tom Glover

Local people will be encouraged to create programmes about their own interests and older (over 60s) and younger (15 to 25s) people will be encouraged to work together creatively.

Programme makers will also be able to explore the idea of 'The Good Citizen' and Bridport's Rights Respecting Town aspirations through a multigenerational project.

Next year, during the weeklong run of the radio station, the radio programmes made throughout the project will be broadcast and local bands, musicians, writers, poets, artists, groups and societies will be able to showcase their work on the station.

Bridport FM will be launched next Tuesday (May 17th) with a free event called 'I didn't know you did that'.

Bridport Arts Centre Learning Co-ordinator, Kate Wilson, said: "We want people to come along to the launch to find out how they can be involved. We will offer training through our partners, Windrose Rural Media Trust, in all aspects of programme making from people who are interested in learning how to conduct interviews or how to write pieces to those who actually want to go out and physically make the programmes and get their hands on the equipment.

"It really is a big learning opportunity and I'm very excited about learning how to put radio programmes together. Lots of us listen to radio all the time so it would be nice to think we could generate something of and about Bridport."

Bridport FM is the first year project of a three-year programme run by Bridport Arts Centre in partnership with Windrose Rural Media Trust and funded by a grant from the Esmee Fairbairn Foundation. Inspired by UNICEF's Rights Respecting principles, the project aims to encourage greater intergenerational understanding, tolerance and respect.

The launch

The project will be launched next Tuesday at 7pm at Bridport Arts Centre with a free event called 'I didn't know you did that'. Run like a speed-dating event, the launch will bring people together to learn more about the project, find out how they can be involved and to exchange brief stories about themselves.

Sitting across a table from someone you don't know and with just three minutes to speak, the idea is to surprise and challenge your listener by telling them something about yourself that they would not necessarily expect to hear.

Everyone is welcome and we hope some of the stories that come out will generate ideas for the first series of programmes. Windrose Media will be on hand to answer questions and make recordings as necessary.

Bridport Arts Centre and Windrose are already working with Bridport Youth Centre and the Spirit of Bridport Steering Group but they are actively seeking the involvement of other groups, organisations and educational establishments.

Kate added: "The idea of the launch is to get people from different generations sitting opposite and blowing those preconceptions out of the water."

The song-writing project

BRIDPORT Arts Centre is currently in the early stages of planning a series of song-writing sessions which will run during the autumn with the aim of producing new songs which will later be aired on Bridport FM.

Kate said: "There are lots of really good musicians around here and we want to be able to offer them a platform through the radio station.

"I have been chatting to people about this for the past few weeks and I went to the youth centre a couple of weeks ago and they are very keen because they have lots of young musicians who go there and use their recording studio.

"We want to put the message out to local bands that they will be able to have a platform on the radio and maybe they will be able to come along to the songwriting workshops or maybe they would just like to send in audio files of things they've done for people to listen to."

There are also plans to approach local schools see if they might be interested in a song-writing project, again to create songs that can be sung or played on the radio.

This may take the form of a competition and explore the ideas of 'My Community' as its theme. A possible concert featuring all the songs created during the project is also being discussed.

Other ideas around music and song-writing are warmly welcomed. Please contact Kate Wilson, Learning Coordinator at Bridport Arts Centre (Mondays, Wednesdays, Thursdays) by e-mailing kate@bridport-arts.com or calling 01308 427183.

New face at Nantes Solicitors

NANTES Solicitors of Weymouth, Dorchester and Bridport, are pleased to announce the arrival of the highly regarded and experienced family law solicitor, Sian Merriott, to their practice. Sian specialises in all areas of family law including divorce, ancillary relief and Children Act 1989 applications. She is a member of both Resolution and the Law Society's Advanced Family Law Panel, and is a trained Collaborative Lawyer.

Sian said: 'I am very excited about joining Nantes and helping to grow the Family Law side of the practice. I am very aware that there is no such thing as a "one size fits all" divorce or separation. I have a great deal of experience and success pursuing family matters through the courts, but sometimes when couples' divorce or separate it is in both their and their children's best interests to reach an amicable and practical agreement face-to-face.

"I am fully trained in the collaborative family law process and always endeav-our to achieve the fairest and most cost effective outcome for my clients whether that is via the traditional Court system or by using the collaborative law process.

Sian offers an initial free half hour appointment, provides a cost estimate which is updated as necessary, and ensures that everything is explained in plain English. Clients are kept fully inand out-of-hour and weekend appointments are given should these be required.

Nantes, director and solicitor, Mike Harvey, said: "We are delighted to have Sian joining our established family law department. Whether separation, co-habitation or children, her in-depth expertise and experience coupled with her diplomacy and tact will ensure that as always we continue to resolve family issues quickly and sympathetically.

Circus wows crowds in Bucky Doo Square

THE Circus of Horrors took to the streets of Bridport last week as the legendary 'Girl in the Bottle' amazed crowds in Bucky Doo Square.

The Circus of Horrors is returning to Bridport next week with a specially designed show, entitled 'Freaks and Feathers'.

To tempt the public to come and see the show, Dorset born Stephanie Mercury was helped into a two foot tall bottle by fellow act 'Douglas Disorderly'.

Shoppers in Bridport Town Centre stopped to take pictures of the stunt last week.

By Tom Glover

The show itself combines freaky acts with more traditional circus skills. The freaky element of the show consists of the Royal family of Freaks, led by Circus of Horrors undead Ringmaster Doktor

Joining the Doktor are Captain Dan, the demon dwarf, The Sword Swallowing of Hannibal Helmurto and the returning Garry Stretch.

The circus element includes Voodoo Warriors limboing under flaming bars, Denis Remnev on the revolving German Wheel and on his Ariel chains, and Anastasia IV blade walking and performing her hair hang act. Douglas Disordely said: "The

Douglas Disordely said: "The show is perhaps not suitable for children or anyone of a nervous disposition but it's great for anyone who loves a bit of freakiness in their lives."

The show 'Freaks and Feathers' will be performed at Bridport's Electric Palace next Monday, May 16th.

Tickets are available from Bridport Tourist Information Centre and on 01308 424901.

Fire crew issue warning after massive chimney blaze

ing to the public after tackling a chimney fire at a thatched house in East Bexington last week.

Ten engines and approximately 50 firefighters attended the scene on Thursday evening and spent more than two hours extinguishing the fire.

A Red Cross Fire and Emergency Support Vehicle (FESS) was also mobilised to the incident along with a water carrier.

Incident Commander, Group Manager Craig Baker said: "Crews worked extremely hard to extinguish this fire which affected the entire roof.

"Water supply in this location was difficult and crews have implemented a water shuttle system alongside using our water carrier.

dents in the last 24 hours and crews are working extremely efficiently and effectively to deal with these fires."

Fire Investigation Officer, Station Manager Dave Myers, sent out a warning to homeowners, he said: "Chimney fires can be prevented if all the right precautions are taken.

Having your chimney swept is vital. The function of sweeping the flue/chimney is to remove the deposits that build up.

"By sweeping the flue/chimney it ensures that there is a clear and safe passage for the safe exit of combustion products, which are caused by the burning process. This lessens the chances of the chimney catching fire."

The Service has the following

- Keep chimneys and flues clean and well maintained - ensure your chimney is swept regularly;
- Make sure embers are under control and put out properly when you go to bed;
- Be careful when using open fires to keep warm.
- Make sure you always use a fireguard to protect against flying sparks from hot embers.
- Fit a smoke alarm on every level of your home and test it weekly.

Salmon and trout are back in Bridport's rivers

SALMON and sea trout are making a welcome return to Bridport's rivers thanks to a special project that is helping migrating fish reach their spawning grounds.

In the past, the 'King of Fish' and its smaller cousin, the sea trout, were unable to travel very far up the River Brit and its tributaries because of man-made obstacles such as sluice gates and weirs.

Fish passes have already been installed in gates and at Jessopp's Weir.

Works are in progress for another two passes, also in the Bridport area, at Palmers Brewery and Gundry Weir.

The improvements have been jointly funded by the Environment Agency and Westcountry Rivers Trust and delivered in collaboration with the Frome, Piddle and West Dorset Fisheries Association.

When finished, the new

the West Harbour sluice fish passes will open up approximately 70 per cent (20 kilometres) of the river catchment to migratory fish enabling them to spawn in the upper stretches of the rivers Brit, Simiene, Asker and Mangerton.

The installations are part of a package of improvements proposed for the river catchment and are being carried out under the European Water Framework Directive that places a legal responsibility on the UK and other member states to restore rivers to 'good ecological status'.

This includes making it possible for salmon, sea trout and eels to migrate up and down our rivers.

All four fish passes will be closely monitored to assess their effectiveness.

Fish are already using the fish pass at Jessopp's Weir where salmon. brown trout and sea trout have been seen ascending

"The investment of approximately £200,000 of Water Framework Directive money will see salmon and sea trout return to the River Brit and its tributaries in good numbers.

"The success of this project is due to the excellent partnership between the Environment Agency and the fisheries organisations with a special interest in local rivers who have played a vital role in getting these four fish passes to the design and installation stage so quickly," said Roger Genge for the Environment Agency.

The agency has also carried out a habitat survey of the Upper Asker and Mangerton Brook to identify stretches of river where further improvements could be made to help migrating fish.

There was no clear evidence of successful spawning, but several large sea trout were seen displaying spawning ac-

Bridport delis up for national award

TWO Bridport delicatessens have their eyes set on national success after both being nominated for a major award for the second year running.

Jaxsons Deli and Washingpool Farm Shop have both been shortlisted for Deli of the Year 2011 after being nominated by their customers.

They will now go up against each other in the voting to find the best South West Deli. The winner will then go forward to the Deli of the Year final, when they will be visited by a mystery shopper, before the overall champion deli will be announced in London in September.

It was a double celebration for Jaxsons Deli who also received the top five star award for their food hygiene levels after a routine inspection last week.

Owners of Jaxsons Deli, Shaz Boswell and Jackie Wolfe, said winning the regional award would really be something for Bridport to celebrate.

Jackie said: "We are absolutely thrilled, it reflects our local cheeses, our customer service and our support from our customers.

"We've had about 40 votes in the shop already and several online and that's in a week."

Shaz added: "We would be delighted to win the overall award. Our passion is local food and good service and between the two of us we feel we deliver that. The feedback we had from last year's competition was fantastic, it blew us away."

Simon Holland, manager of Washingpool Farm Shop, said: "It's always nice to be nominated to be recognised by a customer nominated award because you know you are doing the right thing.

"When we nominate ourselves we feel we are doing the right thing but you don't actually know.

"We were nominated last year and it's all good for our repertoire of awards and also our staff morale.

"To win it would mean quite a lot, it would show us we were doing the right thing and providing the customers what they want."

Customers of both businesses can show their support by voting in store or by visiting www.delioftheyear.co.uk Harveys Factory Outlet

Abbotsbury welcomes summer's first cygnet botsbury Swannery means we are heading for an early summer - if a 600-year-old legend is to be believed.

The first cygnet hatched at 7:45am on Tuesday of last week, and was named 'Sunny' by Abbotsbury Swan-

The hatching was the second earliest date ever recorded since the swannery began and legend has it

The parents of 'Sunny' are Philip and Annabelle, who had been nesting together for five years.

Sadly Philip died early last week and now mum has three cygnets to look after on her own with four eggs yet to hatch. The staff have put her and her young family in a separate enclosure to make sure she feels se-without her partner Phillip, because she's such an experienced mother and she looks very happy with her young," said Head Swanherd, Dave Wheeler.

"The high temperatures in March encouraged the swans to nest very early. The Met Office said it was the driest March for a century and April 6th had the highest temperature on second or third week in May. The Benedictine monks who began the swannery believed that the day the first cyanet hatched signalled the first day of summer. The legend could have science on its side as the Met Office predicts that mild weather will continue well into May.

"This is a lovely time of year down at the swannery. It's wonderful being able to get so close to watch the eggs hatching and the parents rearing their young," added Dave Wheeler.

"The swans usually mate for life and we know every couple at the swannery. It's great seeing the same pairs rearing their new cygnets. Now that one has hatched this usually sets the others off, so there will be loads of little ones soon. There are over 100 nests and there are an average of six eggs in each nest so it's a busy time."

More than 1,000 more cygnets will hatch over the next six weeks at the swannery, where there are approximately 900 swans and 150 nests.

Visitors can walk safely among the nests while hundreds of baby swans are hatching out on to the paths.

The Swannery is open to the public and visitors can see the swans on their nests and take part in the twicedaily mass feedings. For information about the swannery and the cygnet's hatching visit the website www.abbotsbury-tourism.co.uk

Appreciation of the finer points of art to the Bridport Art Society recently on art appreciation. With a degree in fine arts, she was well qualified to analyse slides of paintings from the National Gallery, starting with 14th century Italian masters such as Uccello and Caravaggio.

Cynthia explained that their work was often commissioned for churches, palaces and grand buildings and focused on early representation of perspective and symbolism in religious subjects.

Moving to more recent times, Cynthia covered work by Constable, Velasquez, Stubbs' expertise in portraying animals and on through the impressionists, Manet, Monet, Degas and Cezanne.

In thanking Cynthia for a most informative evening. the society's chairman suggested a visit to the National Gallery to test our skills of appreciation.

Jemma Thompson will give a demonstration of using gold leaf on May 26th at 7:30pm in the St John Ambulance Hall, Rax Lane.

Members and visitors are most welcome and if you would like to join the society, please contact the secretary on 01308 423894.

Dog walk to raise funds for Greek animal shelter

DOG walkers are being invited to join a four-mile trek next week to raise money for a Greek animal shelter. The walk has been organised by Beaminster couple,

Shop windows all in a flutter!

■ BUTTERFLY BONANZA: Shop windows will be decorated to celebrate butterflies will join in the fun this weekend as they decorate their shop windows to celebrate the Dorset Wildlife Trust's Butterfly Bonanza.

In a lead up to the event, to be held in Bridport in June, the town's shops have been invited to decorate their windows along the butterfly theme.

The windows will then be judged and the winners will claim a year's corporate membership to the Dorset Wildlife Trust.

You can see the butterfly window displays from this Saturday, May 14th until Saturday, June 4th, when Bridport's creative talents will be judged during the Bridport Butterfly Bonanza event.

Shops that have entered the competition are Bridport Mortgage Centre, West Dorset Mencap, Carpet World, Smith and Smith Ltd, Julia's House Hospice Shop, Health Foods, Get Stuffed, Hair By David and Steptoes.

Catherine Mason, Community Conservation Officer for Dorset Wildlife Trust's Pastures New Project, said: "We are very excited to see what Bridport; it will really brighten up the high streets for shoppers as well as letting people see just how beautiful the butterflies are that can be found in their local area.

"It looks as if there will be a lot of healthy competition between the shops involved, they all seem to be really up for the challenge."

The Wild About Bridport Butterfly Bonanza will be held from 10am to 3pm on June 4th at Bridport Arts Centre and the Community Orchard.

Activites will include guided walks and a chance to talk to the experts from Dorset Wildlife Trust and Butterfly Conservation.

For more information about the competition and the Butterfly Bonanza event, please contact Catherine Mason on 01300 321329 or email at cmason@dorset wildlifetrust.org.uk

Post election - let's stop council offices

■ THIS issue affects everyone from Sherborne to Bridport, Beaminster and Lyme Regis in council taxes we'll pay.

Opposition to the Charles Street offices was evidenced strongly in Dorchester by seven of the eight Lib Dem councillors winning with more votes than 2007, also winning 18 of 20 Town seats, and by the Independent 'Stop Council Offices Now' candidate extraordinarily topping the West Dorset District Council's Charminster/Cerne poll.

Two new campaign issues emerged:

At a public meeting with developer Simons, June 2010, Simons' director Mark Newton said their/preference'was to proceed with the offices included, but added that offices being left-out wouldn't necessarily preclude Simons from building the shops if there were enough lettings, and economic conditions allowed it.

It's therefore entirely untrue that the Charles Street offices are a necessary pre-condition for shops development... a finding with major implications.

Secondly, the planned offices are six-and-a-half times as long as they're wide!

This massive amount of walling - experts say - is distinctly energy inefficient - heat escapes out of the walls more easily and cold penetrates in more easily.

If WDDC decides to build with this 'thin' shape, it'll fail to maximise savings for West Dorset residents over every year of the next 70 years. I've written to Mr Clarke and received a reply pointing to one of the industry's energy assessment systems, BREEAM.

Most houses in Poundbury actually have BREEAM Excellence status, and new offices will encompass many improvements.

But you can still get BREEAM excellence status with a relatively inefficient original shape.

I've asked Mr Clarke what the on-cost over 70 years will be for selecting one, and kindly to reply on this specific shape issue, not on BREEAM generally.

For WDDC to proceed relatively inefficiently would surely be to breach WDDC's duty to the community.

RECESS IS NO HOLIDAY!

Y WORK in London involves walking once or twice a day between the Cabinet Office and Parliament.

This trip normally consists of a very pleasant, albeit busy, walk down Whitehall and into the Palace of Westminster, soaking up the buzz of what some call the Westminster bubble.

However, when taking this trip in the week after Easter, I noticed something was different. Whilst the buildings remained the same, the atmosphere had changed. The buzz of the bubble had mellowed. Parliament was in recess.

With no bills in the House to debate, amend or pass and no committees on which to sit, Parliament takes an official break for several weeks, several times a year and Parliament has a very different feel.

It struck me how strange recess must seem to somebody unfamiliar with the working of our Parliament, and the duties of our MPs.

Tour groups walking in and around the Palace of Westminster could be forgiven for thinking that our Parliament was in fact a museum, a governmental relic of time gone by.

The very idea that the eerily quiet corridors and chambers through which they stroll are in fact at the heart of the world's sixth largest economy must seem extremely bizarre.

These individuals, as well as the wider public, can also be forgiven for asking the question – what do

MPs actually do during recess?

Connotations of the term 'recess' are things like time off, relaxing and, perhaps, holiday.

Some commentators in the press would have you believe that these connotations are the reality.

I, and many of my colleagues, would categorically disagree.

Whilst I can't speak for all MPs, I can confidently say that most, if not all, are working just as hard during recess as when the House is sitting.

For backbenchers, instead of sitting on committees or speaking in the House, time is spent in the constituency office, dealing with constituency correspondence and developing their thoughts on the causes they stand for, perhaps strategies on how best to achieve their aims.

For members of the Government, like myself, recess means, to a surprisingly large extent, life as normal.

My recess week day still consists of much of the same – early morning constituency correspondence, followed by a full day of ministerial duties, and a night cap of work on the papers in my 'box', whilst my weekends are spent in West Dorset doing more of the same, none of which (I must add) would I change.

As I concluded my stroll to my parliamentary office, my thoughts led me to beg a question - recess... what recess!

Vintage garden party this weekend

A VINTAGE garden party will be drawing the visitors to Litton Cheney this weekend in aid of Bride Valley Fledglings Pre-School.

The party, named 'A Bit of a Do', will feature a host of historic vehicles, delicious homemade cream teas and Pimms, music from the Rex Trevett Big Band, free children's activities and market stalls.

Vintage dress is also encouraged with prizes for the best

Historic Netherbury documents set to go under the hammer

■ A COLLECTION of early 19th century deeds and indentures for properties in Netherbury will go to auction in Bridport later this month

The documents, relating to Slape Manor and other properties and families in and around the Parish of Netherbury, are being auctioned by The Auction House of Bridport on Friday, May 27th.

The historic documents in copperplate writing on vellum and parchment with wax seals were anonymously donated to Netherbury Football Club.

They are estimated to sell for between £100 and £200 and the money raised will help pay for much needed refurbishment of the changing rooms.

Spate of crime at Bridport shop

A BRIDPORT shop was the scene of a number of incidents over the bank holiday with two people now facing prosecution after being escorted from the premises by police.

A 36-year-old Bridport woman was charged and bailed to Weymouth Magistrates court for being Drunk and Disorderly in the East Street Spar shop during the evening of May 1st.

Police have praised staff at the Spar shop after they helped catch four offenders in just two days including a 37-year-old Dorchester woman being arrested twice in three days for shoplifting.

A total of five offences occurred between April 30th and May 2nd.

She has now been charged with three counts of shoplifting at that store.

Bail was refused and she was held in custody for transportation to Weymouth Magistrates court. Bridport police station's Sergeant Jon Bleasdale said: "Over the past week a number of shoplifters were arrested having stolen items from the Spar shop in East Street, Bridport.

"The Spar shop staff are to be congratulated on the pro-active way they have dealt with these crimes which has included the highly effective use of the Shopwatch Radio Link system.

"It is thanks to this good work that so many thieves were caught and sends out a clear signal that such behaviour will not be tolerated in that shop."

Further shoplifting offences occurred when a 30-year-old Bridport man was arrested for shoplifting from a store in Bridport, a 45-year-old Bridport man was arrested and cautioned for shoplifting at the Spar shop and a 24-year old man of no fixed abode was arrested for shoplifting at the same shop.

And the votes are in...

■ TO THE Electorate of Bridport South and Bothenhampton:

I am delighted to have been returned to the Town Council for a fifth term of office and to the District Council for a third term, and I would like, through the columns of The View, to express my appreciation to those who voted for me and for the confidence you placed in me.

I would also like to thank the small band of volunteers for delivering my election address without whose help my campaign would have floundered!

I will continue to serve you as in the past to the best of my ability, putting people before politics.

> Cllr DAVID TETT, Town & District Councillor, Beech House, West Allington

■ PLEASE can I thank the people of Bridport North for putting their trust in me and in our Town Council candidates, despite the anger of so many of them about the coali-

I feel we have had a resounding YES for what we are doing locally in Bridport and I am very touched and grateful for the amount of personal support I received in my re-election as District Councillor.

I would also like to say how much I will miss my now retired colleague Cllr Roger Stoodley who went out of his way to ease my induction as a newly elected councillor in 2007.

Finally I would like to thank the two stalwart canvassers who, despite not being party members, supported me in knocking on doors throughout the campaign.

I know you do not want to be named, but undoubtedly I could not have done it without you. Thank you.

> Cllr ROS KAYES District Councillor -Bridport North, Lib Dem Group Leader - Bridport Town Council

■ FROM the 13 newly-elected Lib Dem Focus Team Bridport Town Councillors:

We would like to thank you for electing us as your 13 Liberal Democrat Focus Team Councillors.

We will continue our tradition of consulting, campaigning and co-operating with others. Our Bridport Town Council and Committee meetings are open to the public; we will hold regular Councillors' Surgeries, and you can have your say through our Focus Newsletter'Grumblesheet' and our 24-hour 'Grumblephone' (459314).

We are also very approachable people – we want to know what you think, so that together we can make Bridport an even better place.

Thank you.

BRIDPORT FOCUS TEAM

■ I HAVE a mix of emotions about my personal election results, of course.

In the early hours of Friday morning I was elated, having won a seat at the District Council, but later that morning I was incredibly disappointed - losing the seat at the Bridport Town Council.

I am extremely pleased and honoured to have been given the opportunity to represent the people of Bridport at the West Dorset District Council.

My intention is to

My intention is to make the voice of Bridport heard more clearly, champion our town whenever I can and I look forward to the unique challenges that the next four years will bring.

I hope my 'apprenticeship' at the Town Council will serve me well.

I have to admit to being shocked that I did not have a seat at the Town Council. I had hoped that the work I had done would have been sufficient to get me elected for a further term. That is democracy - and the 'Democracy' should always be the winner in any election. I will miss Town Council meetings and friends and colleagues there.

I would like to pay tribute to our excellent Town Clerk (and his staff) without whose help and guidance the town would not be as well managed as it is.

I am sure that the four Conservatives that were elected as Town Councillors will continue to do all they can for Bridport.

New exhibitions at the arts centre

BRIDPORT Arts Centre launches a new slot for emerging visual artists from Bridport and around the region this month.

The 2x2x2 exhibition will feature two artists sharing the Allsop Gallery, for two

Both exhibitions will offer audiences fresh, new ideas from artists who are exploring and developing their practice.

The first exhibition, from May 10th-21st, will feature Alastair Barford and Wendy Poole. Alastair Barford's work examines the ways in which information is communicated. Drawing on media imagery, particularly popular film, his work seeks to explore the complex relationship between representation and reality.

Wendy Poole first painted while in hospital during a period of illness in 2002.

Much to her surprise, she has never stopped: "It's amazing - if you had said to me tomorrow you're going to be able to fly a space ship to the moon it would be as amazing to me as starting to paint."

■ IF THEY COULD SEE ME NOW: Jodie Glover in rehearsal for her most recent production with Bridport Musical Theatre Company

West End wannabe sets up scholarship fund

A YOUNG Bridport performer has set up a fundraising group to help her and others achieve their West End dreams.

Jodie Glover, 18, has recently been awarded a place at the Italia Conti Theatre School in London, following in the footsteps of stars such as Bonnie Langford, Noel Coward and Pixie Lott.

After joining thousands of other applicants and taking part in a series of auditions Jodie was given one of just 15 places on the course, but despite also being awarded a scholarship she still has to find a further £6,450 to fund her first year's tuition.

After hearing that some of her friends were also in a similar position, Jodie decided to setup 'The Bridport Performers Scholarship', to raise funds for herself and others tuition.

The scholarship is open to all performers in West Dorset that have been successful on any higher education course in performing arts, including foundation degrees.

Anyone who wishes to benefit from the scholarship must join the group in running a series of fundraising events throughout the summer. At the end of each year the money will be distributed evenly among those who took part.

"Drama school places are extremely limited and have become even more so with government cuts with my course only taking 15 students this year; half of the usual intake. Because of this, the prices are high at up to £16,000 a year depending on the school," Jodie said.

"I was over the moon when I found I'd been given a place but then was scared I would have to turn it down due to the high fees.

"A friend of mine had also been successful at audition but was faced with the same problem. This is when I decided to set up the fund.

"I have been taking part in local amateur theatre for many years now with companies such as BOW, Open House Productions, Encore, BMTC and MAD, and I have met so many talented people.

"This year alone I have had seven friends audition for drama school with a couple still awaiting results.

"I truly believe all of them deserve a place and will achieve their dreams. I don't think, however, that these are the only seven people I know who are talented enough, there are still people able that haven't applied due to money and that's what I want to change."

The first fundraising event for the group will be a jumble sale at the Bridport Youth and Community Centre this Saturday, May 4th at 2pm.

The main project this summer will be a youth drama production at Bridport Arts Centre, where Jodie is the Youth Advisor.

The show will be a one night only musical called 'The Perfect Teenager' on September 3rd and will involve a cast of 12 - 21 year olds.

If you would like to be involved with the show or would like to hear more about the Bridport Performers Scholarship then contact Jodie on 01308 427091.

Mayor marks his year in office with civic night

MAYOR Councillor Geoffrey Ackerman celebrated his year in office with a civic evening at Bridport Arts Centre.

The event held last week raised funds for the Mayor's charities, Julia's House and Help for Heroes.

Representatives of local organisations, the High Sheriff of Dorset and other county guests, enjoyed the evening, which included an opportunity to view the current exhibition of the history of the arts centre in the Allsop Gallery and a musical performance from the Rex Trevett Big Band.

Mayor Councillor Geoffrey Ackerman said: "This was a very nice way to finish my year in office.

"I was grateful for all the support provided on the evening and for the entertainment provided by the Rex Trevett Big Band."

Well, would you pass your driving test now?

THROUGHOUT the spring and summer months View From Reporter TOM GLOVER is welcoming all challenges for this new column 'Take on Tom'.

If your club, group or organisation would like to be the focus of this column and could put Tom to the test then email him at tom@pemedia.co.uk or phone 01297 446154.

HIS week's challenge was one any driver dread. Worse than your car insurance renewal, worse even than the sharp intake of breath from a car mechanic before he gives you a quote - this week I was forced to retake my driving test.

For the first time I began to regret the "no challenge refused" element of this column.

Taking me through this traumatic experience was driving instructor Tim Gudgion, of 'Tim's Driving School' based in Dorchester.

Tim is a very friendly guy and most importantly a relaxed and patient instructor, which I imagine comes from his 20 years of teaching young adults and his degree in psychology.

The price of fuel and the ever-increasing competition makes it difficult for every instructor in Dorchester but Tim is clearly passionate about his job and about getting results. He prides himself on his 91 per cent first time pass rate for his students last year.

Tim's car, a three-yearold Renault Clio, is also a dream to drive. I'm sure his students hate saying goodbye to it as they transfer to their own old banger which can only drive in three gears, has the heater stuck on full and costs £2,000 to insure despite the fact it can't go 30mph except downhill.

We have all been there and we all have tales of our own experiences, but it is surprising how the test has developed in just four short years.

Students in Dorchester now have to master the bay park and complete an independent driving section on their test, not to mention tackling the newly expanded roundabouts and the ever-increasing Poundbury de-

I can only imagine how much the test has changed in the 30 years since my parents took it, they were probably checking their blind spot for oncoming Penny Farthings!

Now, as much as we all like to think we are great drivers, that doesn't mean we are test ready drivers.

A short recap lesson with Tim before my mock test was spent mainly being reminded to check my mirrors. I wasn't stalling the car as much as I did four years ago but when asked to parallel park or reverse around a corner I was suddenly back in the mind set of 17-year-old self, palms sweaty and hands shaking.

With a recap complete we moved onto the test. It started badly and got progressively worse. The two vehicle check questions were the first to catch me out before we'd even pulled off.

"How do you check your brakes are working?" and "How do you check the tread depth on your tyres?" The answer is not "Ask dad", although it has never failed

With the questions incorrectly answered I pulled away and we were

I felt it was going well until manoeuvre time. Tim decided to test me out on the dreaded reverse park, always my least favourite.

My first attempt was of the manoeuvre.

Oblivious to this I carried on and completed the independent section of my test and returned to Poundbury, where the new test centre is based.

The result? Fail, with two majors and six minors. The second major was for lane discipline on hether it's The Bull's easy-going moules-frites (now a Wednesday night institution in Bridport), laid-back market-day brunch, a lavish celebration meal or morning coffee and cakes, they cater for every occasion with relaxed, rustic food.

The Bull Hotel/The Stable

Head Chef Marc Montgomery, formerly of Marco Pierre White's Talkhouse in Oxford, runs a busy kitchen, baking all of the bread, cakes and scones in-house and crafting a daily menu that lets the quality of the local, seasonal Canapés are served in the Venner Bar on Friday nights (another local institution) and the pretty courtyard garden, the original stable yard, decked out with bunting and fairy lights, is an idyllic setting for a light summer lunch or evening cocktail.

The Bull has been runner up in The Observer Food Awards for two years - last year for Best Sunday Lunch category and the year before for Best Restaurant

The Stable serves a vast selection of unique ciders, from single variety specials to proper local brews, wine by the carafe and a mouth watering range of home-made Dorset pizzas and pies, The Stable is a totally new concept that brings the best of the West Country to the table.

Situated in The Bull Hotel's historic stable block, expect hay bales, communal tables and just a hint of the Wild West!

Old pension plans gathering dust

he Pensions world can seem confusing and full of Jargon at the best of times, but the sad fact is that most of us do not have sufficient monies put away for retirement and indeed, those of us who do save, quite often the pots are not doing anything more than gathering dust like the statements in the cupboard.

At Pennywise we have a different approach, it's about the long haul, reviewing your pension plans every year to see how they are doing and most importantly make sure the money is in the right place to benefit from some growth. Too often pension plans are set up and then never looked at again. The world is an ever changing place and pensions are no different in that respect. What is a good investment today will not necessarily be what was best 10 years ago, likewise in 10 years time the picture may be very dif-

It does not cost to have an Independent Pension review and with some minor changes there can be a marked difference in the value of your pension pot at retirement. The reality is that the more money in your Pension at retirement, the better your choices and the more income you will be able to pur-

History of the Oakroom

The Monmouth Rebellion

The Duke of Monmouth landed at Lyme Regis on the 11th June 1685 to challenge King James' claim to the throne, following the death of Charles II. He assembled an army in excess of 3000 men and marched to Sedgemoor in Somerset.

He was defeated by the King's army in less than a month. Around 1300 were taken prisoner. Five Judges came to Dorchester with the infamous Judge Jeffreys, whose reputation was that of the 'hanging judge'. In September 1685, 312 cases were heard in the Oakroom at the rear of the Antelope Hotel; of these 292 were sentenced to death. Only 74 were executed, with 175 transported, 9 were fined or whipped and 54 were discharged.

Judge Jeffreys - having his eye on promotion - was later

When King James fell and William of Orange landed in Torbay, Jeffreys was captures and imprisoned in the Tower of London. He died in 1689 while awaiting trial, probably of natural causes. Rumours at the time said he has been poisoned while in the Tower and that his body had been returned to Dorchester and walled up in the Courtroom now the Oakroom.

This 17th Century Oak panelled room has been carefully restored to maintain its character and original features.

Today it is called The Oakroom and is a delightful tearoom, with a peaceful, tranquil atmosphere, replicating the style and service of a Lyons Corner House.

The Oakroom of today serves a variety of light meals throughout the day, lunches and of course Dorset Clotted Cream Teas.

Spotlight on Eliza Carthy

ELIZA Carthy is undoubtedly one of the most impressive and engaging performers of her generation. Twice nominated for the Mercury Prize and winner of innumerable other accolades over a 15 year career, Eliza has performed and recorded with a diverse array of artists including, Paul Weller, Rufus & Martha Wainwright, Nick Cave, Patrick Wolf and Bob Neuwirth. More than most, Eliza Carthy has revitalised folk music and captured the most hardened of dissenters with intelligent, charismatic and boundary-crossing per-

Eliza grew up immersed in the world of traditional music. She still divides her time between touring and recording with her legendary parents, Martin Carthy and Norma Waterson, as well as engaging in numerous pioneering solo and band projects, including work with Pere Ubu and Melanie Challenger, an artist in residence in Antarctica.

Her new album Neptune was released on Monday. Recorded at Castle Studios, Edinburgh and co-produced by Dave Wah and Eliza Carthy, Neptune is the solo follow up to 2008's Dreams of Breathing Underwater and the first record to be released through her own label, HemHem Records.

Last year's album Gift (a collaboration with her mother Norma Waterson), received widespread critical acclaim and picked up 'Best Album' and 'Best Traditional Track' accolades at the BBC Radio 2 Folk Awards. Having recently toured with folk collective The Imagined Village, Carthy embarks on shows with her own band this week - she plays Bridport Arts Centre on Friday.

"This album is a step on from the 'Ben-Hur-style, everything with extra horse, seven years to make approach' we had to the last one," explains Eliza.

"Me and my lovely, talented and stylish band in a room playing together, like the Romans did, in a couple of weeks. Ah, the good old days:

"Neptune relates to an astrological reading I had done by a friend of the family," recalls Eliza.

"The material on the album is ordered chronologically and is about the last ten years of my life. It's a story about ending relationships and beginning new ones with their own imperfections, and is about the thought that nothing is perfect, even when written in the stars. I'm still an old romantic though and partial to odd quotes from old television programmes."

Displaying Carthy's trademark eclectic flair and lush vocals, Neptune is brimming with poignant observations on British life.

"Britain Is A Car Park' is a song that imagines a near and possible future where we from our tiny island have all moved to Spain, and left our cars behind to be looked after by people who can't afford to move to Spain... then we all enjoy the unique local food, with chips, naturally."

So the new album's out this week. What can people expect from it? Me and my band being lovely. We hope. Poetry and humour out of dark

How different is it working on a solo album than it is to collaborating with, say, your mum and dad? It's nice being able to make an album and go out looking like this.

Did you ever feel any pressure to live up to your parents' reputation when you decided to make a career out of music?

Absolutely. I try to be a bit nicer to myself these days though. You can only do You're at the start of a new tour. What've you got planned for it?

The new material is fun to play, so just that. We've been working on the strings, the fiddle, bass and cello. It's rather beautiful.

Do you prefer being out on the road than to being in the studio? They have different charms. In the studio you get to go home every night.

What do you think of the success of the likes of Mumford & Sons and Laura Marling, the so called 'nu folk' artists? Good luck to them.

You've collaborated with a huge number of artists over the years. Who has been your favourite to work with?

Paul Weller. He's a nice man with a beautiful voice. Having him sing to you or near you is a lovely thing.

Is there anyone you haven't worked with who you'd like to? Freddie Mercury

The West Country has always been very receptive to folk music - and not just since Show Of Hands came on the scene! Do you find it an area of the country that's particularly in tune with your music?

It always feels here like people want to be entertained. Some places just want you to impress them, and they sit back with their arms folded until you do. It's friendlier the West Country way.

Tell me a little about The Imagined Village. It sounds a crazy idea on paper but has certainly captured people's imaginations. It's just a way to get different English communities playing together around one idea. Well, it was. Now we're more of an eleven-piece autonomous collective it's eleven ideas. I like the fact we're a real band now as opposed to a con-

Boogie on down with Ben

SO local man plays live concert to raise money to keep the swimming pool at his children's school open; no big deal, heard it before?

Apart from the fact whoever it is doing it should be congratulated for helping to raise funds, in this case it is a little different, as it will also be the Dorset launch of his new album which includes a host of legendary rock stars going back over the last fifty years!

Ben Waters, one of world's leading Boogie
Woogie/Rock N Roll piano players will be featuring some of the songs from the album 'Ben Waters, Boogie4Stu', a tribute to Ian Stewart, pianist and founding member of the Rolling Stones in the 'Broadmayne Live' concert at Broadmayne First School this Saturday (May 14th).

Stewart died of a massive heart attack in 1985 and Ben has dedicated all sales from the album to The British Heart Foundation. He had also been asked to do a concert to raise funds for the swimming pool, so he decided to put the two together and make it a joint concert.

Waters will be joined on stage by The Devil's Rejects and Shooter for what should be a terrific night of music. Besides all the Rolling Stones who have all made contributions by singing and playing on some of the tracks, there are also guest appearances from Jools Holland. and two well known Bridport musicians, PJ Harvey and Hamish Maxwell.

Gates open 6pm. Tickets £12 in advance; £15 on the door. Available on line from www.broadmayne live.co.uk; Tel 01305 534415 or from: Broadmayne School Office, Broadmayne Village Shop The New Inn, West Knighton The Black Dog and Broadmayne Nordale

"A spokesman said: "Ben agreed to do the concert and is paying a wonderful band to back him for the evening with very special guests and is happy to help this school as his children have had such a fantastic time there.

He then decided it would be great if we could turn this concert into a double charity event. Ben and the band could do the concert to raise money for the school and also use the gig as a Dorset album launch, playing material off of the album; people could also buy the new CD thus raising money for the Heart Foundation as well."

ReView | Lonely Boys at Bridport Arts Centre

duction delighted audiences at Bridport Arts Centre last week.

Lonely Boys was the latest offering from Bridport filmmaker Clive Whaley and the risky experimental format of the show paid off in spades.

Described as a documsuical or an operamentary the show combined pre-recorded one-to-one interviews with its three stars. with music performed on the night by a live band and the stars themselves.

The film itself was beautifully shot highlighting the stunning Dorset countryside at its finest. Almost every shot in the film would not have been out of place if it were captured and hung on a gallery wall.

The documentary style interviews looked at men's views on lust, love and loneliness, and how these views change in the different stages of life.

The 'Young Boy' was Dewi Lambert who spoke openly about his fears for the future and his difficult time at University. His moving interviews were interspersed with song. including the entertaining 'Quivering Jelly which lifted the mood of the show Representing the 'Middle Age Boy'was Clive Whaley himself who talked about the love of his wife and children and then very movingly in the second half about his recent battle with depression.

The 'Old Boy' was John Surry, a familiar face to many in the town. John provided many a laugh with his anecdotes and his views on in sharing his fears of death and got the show off to the perfect start with the song 'I was there'.

The songs, written by Clive Whaley and arranged by Steve Jones, added a truly three-dimensional feel to the production and complimented the show with the perfect amount of light and shade.

The musical accompaniment by Andrew Dickson, Robert Lee and Steve Jones was faultless throughout.

To speak so openly on camera, and to an audience of many friends and family, was an immeasurably brave thing for all three men to do but it was unquestionable success.

The different generations represented in the audience could all be heard laughing at different times as they related with the men, and a few tears were shared at the end as the show explored its darker themes.

As well as being a great success as a production the show also raised money and awareness for the Dorset Mental Health Trust who took all the profits from the show.

Bridport Choral Society Spring Concert full of contrast

BRIDPORT Choral Society's Spring Concert on Saturday, May 21st promises an evening of contrast. The first half of the concert will include Psalm 23 (to the theme of 'The Vicar of Dibley'), "Ave Maria", and Faure's Requiem. Soprano soloist Anna-Maria Geare will sing of everlast-'Pie Jesu'; baritone John Thorogood will conjure up the terrors of judgement day when he pleads for deliverance in 'Libera Me'.

Later, we shall be transported to Spain for a concert version of Bizet's Carmen, with its gipsy dances and the stirring March of the Toreadors, under the baton of Musical Director David Knight.

The concert is at 7.30 pm in Bridport United Church; admission £6 adults, £3.50 children, at the door or from Bridport Music or the Tourist Office.

BLISS IN SPRING

Do I believe in magic? Certainly I do When in the cold and frozen earth Snowdrops come peeping through

Do I believe in miracles? I have to nod my head As crocuses and cheerfulness Rise from my flower bed.

When celandines and bluebells Adorn the woodlands rise Awakening from their deep sleep Appear before my eyes.

I believe within this fragile world There's such a thing as fate For in my fast declining years I've found my own true mate.

The whole nation enjoyed the romance and the splendour of the royal wedding and many more marriages will follow in May. This happy lyric, written of course by the great W.S. Gilbert, comes from "The Gondoliers'

WHEN A MERRY MAIDEN MARRIES

When a merry maiden marries, Sorrow goes and pleasure tarries; Every sound becomes a song,

All is right and nothing's wrong! From to-day and ever after Let your tears be tears of laughter -Every sigh that finds a vent Be a sigh of sweet content! When you marry merry maiden, Then the air with love is laden; Every flower is a rose, Every goose becomes a swan, Every kind of trouble goes Where the last year's snows have gone; Sunlight takes the place of shade When you marry merry maid!

When a merry maiden marries Sorrow goes and pleasure tarries; Every sound becomes a song, All is right, and nothing's wrong. Gnawing Care and aching Sorrow, Get ye gone until to-morrow; Jealousies in grim array, Ye are things of yesterday! When you marry merry maiden, Then the air with joy is laden; All the corners of the earth Worry is melodious mirth, Grief is joy in masauerade: Sullen night is laughing day All the year is merry May!

As we all know, not every romance ends at the

JILTED My love, he loves another,

And has no time for me With her as his companion He wanders far and free: He boasts about her contours. (All others they've surpassed) And even is so shameless As to admit she's fast. About her gliding movement He does not cease to rave For hours he waits upon her, An abject, willing slave. He never even noticed My hat with mink tails on it But begged me to enthuse on The beauty of her bonnet: He brags that she is silent And very sweet to handle -It's plain that to his new car I cannot hold a candle.

Lyme Regis Sailing Club celebrates 90th year with open day

LYME Regis Sailing Club will host a sailing open day on Sunday, May 22nd, celebrating the 90th year of the club. Whether you have never sailed before or perhaps did so long ago, LRSC invite you to take this opportunity to sail with an experienced club sailor, visit the club and see the facilities on offer, meet club members, and enjoy lunch from the galley and a drink from the bar.

The Club was formed in 1921 and in its long history it can boast a considerable reputation for hosting national sailing events, cruising sailors who have untaken lengthy voyages, and having many national champions amongst its membership. Despite this it retains a warm welcoming informal and friendly atmosphere towards all those who visit it.

For much of its life it occupied premises above the aquarium on the Cobb, but in 2000 a lottery grant was obtained and a purpose built building above the slipway was constructed. The new premises offer first rate facilities, with male and female changing rooms, sun deck, clubroom, bar and storage for its safety boats, whilst launching and recovery within the shelter of the Cobb Harbour is relatively easy

The Club has around four hundred members with racing taking place regularly on Sundays and Wednesday evenings in a mixed handicap fleet. Lasers, phantoms, scorpions, albacores and medinas are present in the largest numbers but many other classes are well represented. Formalised training is undertaken by Lyme Regis Sea School which is a Registered Training Establishment for the RYA, has a large fleet of dinghies and runs courses throughout the summer for both adults and children.

On a Tuesday evening an active Youth Section takes place with children from the age of ten upwards taking part under the instruction of experienced sailors. They use the Sea School boats and as the students gain experience they progress to become instructors themselves and participate in the adult racing. The evening is always a lively affair and finishes with a supper.

An excellent social program operates throughout the year with delicious meals served by our regular caterers whilst a well stocked bar is run by our regular barman

Few things in life can afford more pleasure than to have had a great day sailing, then round it off back at the Club with a delicious meal and a drink whilst sitting above the harbour on the sun deck, among good company, as the sun

Attack The Block is a fast, funny frightening action adventure movie that pits a teen gang against an invasion of savage alien monsters. It turns a London housing estate into a sci-fi playground, a tower block into a fortress, and teenage street kids into heroes.

TAKE ME HOME TONIGHT 15

It's the late 1980s, when Wall Street is riding high, and it seems as if the entire country is cashing in on the bumper profits. Disgusted with the materialism that surrounds him, Matt Franklin (Topher Grace), a brilliant young MIT graduate, has walked out on his well-paid position at a local lab and taken a low-level job as a video clerk, much to his father Bill's consternation. And the crises keep piling up in Matt's life. His best buddy Barry has just gotten fired from his job, his brainy sister Wendy is getting hitched to her vapid boyfriend Kyle, and the gorgeous Tori Frederking, long-time object of Matt's unattainable adoration, is suddenly back in the picture. Now, on one wild, woolly and irresponsible evening, everything is coming to a head, with explosive results

'OH MARY' - A TALE OF TRANSPORTATION, LOVE AND ESCAPE AT DORCHESTER ARTS CENTRE

CORNISH actor Bec Applebee presents 'Oh Mary' - a one woman show based on the incredible life story of Mary Bryant - Cornish highway woman, convict, mother and maritime adventurer. This true story is a swashbuckling tale of transportation, love, escape, tragedy and redemption that spanned the world between Cornwall and Australia.

Mary was born in Fowey Cornwall, in 1765. After a stint of petty crime she was arrested and found guilty of violent highway robbery having stolen a bonnet and some money. She was sentenced to hang but was given a reprieve and sentenced to seven years' transportation to Australia. On arrival in Australia Mary was married to

"She (Mary Bryant) is at the heart of one of maritime's greatest escapes. I find her tale truly awe inspiring of seafaring history.

Bec is well known for her work with Kneehigh Theatre Company as well as being a musician with the Cornish band Dalla. This performance uses a mix of dramatised story telling and an evocative narrative to create a surprising, funny and moving tale or adventure

'Oh Mary' is on Friday, May 20th at 8pm at Dorchester Arts Centre. Tickets cost £8 / £6 members and concessions and are available by calling 01305 266926, or online at www.dorchesterarts.org.uk.

Lyme-based soprano to feature with male voice choir in aid of RNLI

SOPRANO Jacqui Piper, a Lyme Regis resident since 1984, is to feature as soloist when the renowned Tauntor Dean Male Voice Choir perform at the town's Woodmead Halls on May 21st.

The choir of 45 voices will be singing in a concert arranged by the Lyme Regis and Charmouth RNLI Guild in aid of the lifeboat charity.

Jacqui trained at the Guildhall School of Music and Drama and sang with the Central London Opera. She has appeared on television in Bermuda and on Radio Devon for BBC Music Live. Jacqui has also appeared at many open air festivals with male voice choirs, and her repertoire embraces a wide range of arias from opera, light opera, musicals, ballads and sacred songs.

Taunton has had a flourishing male voice choir for 65 years, and one of its aims is to help organisations raise money for charitable causes.

Each year the choir performs at least 14 charity concerts and helps to raise many thousands of pounds.

With an extensive and varied repertoire the choir has sung with massed choirs at the Royal Albert Hall at VE Day celebrations in Hyde Park and at Wells Cathedral.

Tickets for the Woodmead Halls concert are available at £4.50 at the RNLI shop at the Cobb, at Martin Diplock estate agents or by phone 07831 533580.

Modern end of terrace house located on the outskirts of Beaminster

NUMBER 38 The Beeches is a modern end of terrace house (of just three) which was built in the early 1990s of half brick and half render, under a tiled roof.

The property is situated in the corner of a popular cul de sac, which is located on the outskirts of the town. The accommodation has been extended to the rear to provide a useful conservatory with doors to the rear garden. The property benefits from a good-sized sitting room with dining area and bay window, modern kitchen, two double bedrooms, gas-fired central heating, UPVC double-glazed windows and views to the rear. The property has recently been decorated throughout with new carpets laid. Outside there is a driveway with tandem parking for several vehicles, front garden and an enclosed rear garden with gravelled seating area and storage shed. The property is for sale with no onward chain.

Accommodation includes: entrance lobby, sitting room with dining area, kitchen, conservatory, two double bedrooms, bathroom, gas-fired central heating, upvc double-glazed windows, driveway with parking, front garden and enclosed rear garden.

The asking price for 38 The Beeches is £165 000. To receive particulars or to arrange a viewing please contact Elder & Froy at our Beaminster office on 01308 862606. To view the full sale particulars and floor plans please go to www.elderfroy.co.uk.

Property Of The Week

MORCOMBELAKE - £199,950

THIS delightful and quirky cottage is situated in a lovely semi-rural location in the West Dorset village of Morcombelake, away from the main road but within easy reach of the village shop and Moore's Dorset Biscuits!

The property is believed to have Georgian origins and was originally part of a larger farmhouse.

Today the accommodation, which is split level at the rear, comprises two bedrooms, a bathroom, good sized sitting/dining room and a long galley style kitchen. There is a lovely cottage garden to the rear with a summer house and pretty views to the front over Chardown

There are lovely walks from the doorstep as Loves Lane (beside the cottage) leads up to extensive walks along Hardown Hill (National Trust land) from where there are breathtaking views over the Marshwood Vale and out to sea. Morcombelake benefits from a shop and post office, village hall, church, an art gallery and of course is the home of Moore's Dorset Biscuits.

The village is situated about 5 miles west of the market town of Bridport and 6 miles east of the seaside resort of Lyme Regis.

The property makes a cosy home for one or two people or would make an ideal holiday home.

With an asking price of £199,950 and viewing by appointment only. Please call Gordon and Rumsby on

CHARMOUTH - £650 PCM

ARTIST STUDIOS/OFFICES TO RENT

BETWEEN BRIDPORT & LYME REGIS £180 - £250 PCM INCLUDING BILLS

ARTWAVE West opened in June 2009 following a huge refurbishment artist studios and offices. These rooms are hired out at highly competiof the former Ship Inn, Morcombelake. The gallery has been carefully designed to show Contemporary Art in the large, open plan downstairs space. It has got off to an impressive start, with hundreds of visitors coming to see the collection of paintings, all with positive things to say. The most frequent comment is. 'This is such a tremendous space to look at art, and there is nothing else to match this anywhere in the South West or even outside London.

Separate to the gallery, the upstairs of Artwave West has been divided into just five individual units suitable for a number of uses including tive rates and include all utilities – even business rates and the added bonus of free wireless internet access and parking. The Landlords always wanted these spaces to be inexpensive and simple to hire to enable individuals to have a convenient work space that didn't eat into their pocket. They have been extremely popular over the last two years with talent flowing continuously through the building and are truly a fantastic place to work

Market leader Ford ups sales and share in April

STRONG sales of Ford's total vehicle range boosted its UK sales leadership in April with increased sales and share recorded for the month, compared with April 2010. The Ford Fiesta was first in car sales while the Ford Transit continued its reign as the best-selling commercial vehicle (CV).

Official figures released today by the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders (SMMT) show that total UK car sales in April, compared with April 2010, were down 7.4 per cent to 137,746 units. Ford car sales of 18,411 were down from 19,216 in April 2010 but Ford's share of total car sales was 13.4 per cent, up from 12.9 per cent in April 2010.

Ford's continuing strength in retail car that the best selling sales was indicated by an April retail market share of 12.8 per cent, up from 10.5 per cent in April 2010. For the year to date Ford share of retail car sales is 13.1 per cent, increased from 11.9 per cent compared with the same period in 2010.

The appeal of Ford's best ever car range was underlined by the fact

Ford Fiesta was backed up by the Ford C-MAX, the Ford Kuga, the Ford S-MAX and the Ford Galaxy all increasing their monthly sales and share figures compared with April 2010.

Ford Transit increased sales in April from 2,275 to 3,875 compared with April 2010, while for the year to date sales were up from 13,626 to 20,099 and its medium

CV share increased from 23.8 to 25.5 per cent, compared with the same period in 2010. Total Ford CV sales increased in April from 3,310 to 4,928, compared with April 2010 and year to date have increased from 19,189 to 25,596, compared with the same period last year.

Nigel Sharp, Ford of Britain managing director, said: "The UK market continues to be intensely competitive and we are maintaining our discipline to strike an appropriate balance between sales/share and business profitability. Ford's outstanding vehicle range helps in achieving that balance, proving its strong customer appeal by the significant, ongoing growth in retail market share."

Friday, May 6th ARTHUR GAGE CUP FINAL

(at Axminster Town FC) Netherbury 0 Winsham United 4

DEPLETED Netherbury had no answer to the strength of a Winsham

United side that will be trotting out in the Premier Division next season.

"We had the bare 11 players, and one of them, was struggling with an injury and nowhere near fit" said Netherbury manager Andy Loudon who added that the club had had an appeal to have the game played at a later date turned down by PSL

The game, punctuated by a thunderstorm, at Axminster Town's Sector Lane was a one-sided affair with top-scorer Tom Stead taking his season's tally to 26 with a brace and there were singles from Sam Symes and Joe Simmons.

The Ambers' woes were compounded 20 minutes from time when Ryan Gay was shown a straight red card by referee Richard Allen.

Saturday, May 7th

Barrington 5 W & M Chinnock 3

A 5-3 win over West & Middle Chinnock couldn't save Barrington from making an immediate return to Di-

The Chinnocks', freed from the shackles of worrying over their own survival, led 3-2 at the interval thanks to strikes form Nick Bond, Mark Male and George Trott.

But the hosts, needing a win to have any chance of staying up, battled back to win with Adam Gibble (2), Alex Thompson, Kyle Oliver and Rob Loxton on target.

The outcome could have been different had Gareth Lennox and Damian Hart not missed penalties.

Lyme Regis 0 South Petherton 1

WITH the outcome of the title decided by Tuesday evening's results, Saturday's game between the best two teams in the league could have turned into a dull end of season affair. But as it was, the match was a bristling tustle with pride at stake.

No quarter was asked for, or given, and referee Andy Dyke, who had a difficult afternoon, was clearly at pains to cope with the ferocity of some of the clashes.

The outcome of the game was decided in the 13th minute when centre-back Steve Bowker rose unchallenged to head home Rich Hebditch' corner giving stand-in 'keeper Aaron Cleal no chance.

Hebditch went close to adding a second ten minutes before the interval with a low drive that beat Cleal but was deflected around the post by the lunging Mark Batey.

A minute later Julien Simier, making a welcome return from injury, went close at the other end when he burst through the Petherton defence only to be denied by a fine save by 'keeper Jardine MacKenzie.

Lyme skipper Adam Caddy, who has been in fine goalscoring form in the latter stages of the season almost put through his own goal five minutes after the restart with an attempted headed clearance that struck his own side's post.

Lyme certainly deserved to take something from the game and put in a good shift to round-off a fine season that has yielded three trophies (Dorset Intermediate, Coronation and Chard Hospital Cups).

On the subject of trophies. Petherton players and officials were disappointed to have no PSL official or Championship trophy in attendance.

Ilminster Res 2 Beaminster 6

BEAMINSTER recorded their biggest away win of the season to conclude a campaign that at the halfway stage promised so much but ended with a third placed finish and two losing cup final appearances.

With nothing really hanging on the result the club took the opportinity to give a run-out to nine reserve teamers in preparation for Thursday's through the 250 career goals barrier, bagged a hat-trick as did Kev Warry.

SAM Smythe and Paul Grinter were amongst the goals as Charmouth bade farewell to Division One with their first away win in 18 months - a 3-2 triumph at Forton Rangers.

A 50th career goal for Ally Rattenbury was the highlight as Lyme Regis Reserves continued their superb run of form that has brought six wins in seven outings making fears of relegation earlier in the season a distant memory.

Lyme ladies too strong for Wellworthy

IT'S been a very busy week for Lyme Regis Bowling Club writes Paul Moffitt

All the League sides have been in action and there has been a friendly on most days. The Highlight of the week has to be the Ladies 10-0 defeat of Wellworthy on their own turf. All the more exciting when you consider the Men's Championship side played there the previous evening without much success on a green which vas pretty nigh unplayable.

The Men's A & B teams failed to impress, so not a very promising start to the season.

On the friendly front it's been a mixed bag, although the onesided scoreline against a touring side last Monday was due largely because most of the men were on League duty and not available to play.

DORSET FUNERAL PLAN LEAGUE

HEAVY thunderstorms towards late afternoon put paid to nearly all of Saturday's games that had survived Friday night and early morning rain.

Only three games, all in the east of the county, were played to completion.

A number of West Dorset sides gave themselves
DIVISION THREE chances of victory, but in the end Mother Nature prevailed

Symene were luckier on Sunday to continue after a heavy squall and win their second game of the season at home to Winton 2nd's.

PREMIER LEAGUE

Poole Town 14-2 v Dorchester 110 all out (match abandoned)

THERE was an interesting finish in store at Poole Park had rain not brought proceedings to an early

Despite Dorchester having been dismissed for just 110 in 41.1 overs they had their hosts in trouble at 14-2 at the abandonment.

Having lost the toss, and despite a fluent knock of 35 from Dave Maslen followed by some resilient batting from the top and middle order. Dorchester were unable to post a seemingly competitive total in conditions extremely favouring the bowling

After losing Rob Waite for 12, Maslen and Adam Rendell (17) took the score to 70 before Kristian Wilson trapped both Rendell and Dan Belt for a single. When Maslen fell to Steve Wilson, Dorchester had slipped to 76-4.

It was the introduction of John Fairless however that destroyed the county town. He ripped through the middle and bottom order taking 5-18 off six overs as Dorchester lost their last five wickets for just Dan Belt came out of the blocks immediately after tea with a particularly hostile over, but it was Phil Morley who struck first, having Quinn caught behind by Nick Roe for a duck.

Although Dave Robjohns hit Belt for his second four with the first ball of his second over, he got revenge two balls later when he had Poole's star man Martin Miller caught at gully by Maslen with a rip snorter off the shoulder of the former Minor Counties man to leave Poole at 14-2.

Skipper Martyn Richards said: "The most unfortunate note from a Dorchester point of view is that we managed to see off the most penetrative bowlers in Kristian and Steve Wilson, and then succumbed to the wayward bowling of J Fairless, falling to a combination of full tosses long hops and poor shot se-

After waiting to see if the rain would clear the, both umpires and captains agreed that the conditions were unplayable and time was called as the match was abandoned.

Richards added: "It's a shame because while Poole held the advantage, the way Dan and Phil got underway with the ball, another half an hour would've been very interesting, and Poole captain Jamie Thomas conceded he was not too disappointed with the abandonment in what would've surely been a tense afternoon."

Blandford 200 all out v Weymouth 1st XI 32-2 (match abandoned)

DESPITE conceding 58 extras, 47 of them wides, Weymouth gave themselves a chance of victory at Blandford until the rain put paid to their hopes.

Having won the toss, skipper Paul Payne put his hosts in to bat, and Rob Nobbs (4-53), Matt Lawes (2-29), Simon Browne (2-35) and Faraz Ulhag (2-38) all took wickets at regular intervals, and with more accurate bowling the total would have been more attainable

Although Weymouth lost Payne (5) and Jonny Armfield (1) with just 20 on the board, Dean Janaway (19no) looked in good form, and with Jim Ryall (6no) appeared to be turning the game Weymouth's

Cattistock v Bridport 189-9 (42 overs) (match abandoned)

IT was looking like an interesting finish to this game before the rain forced its abandonment.

With three overs of their innings left when the rains came Bridport had reached 189-9 with Dom Gape (46) and Liam Toohill (38) their main contributors.For Cattistock Ben Golledge (3-29) was the best of their bowlers with the other wickets shared.

Bridport captain Mark Smith felt his side had a good chance of victory despite the fact it wasn't a large target.

"Cattistock were keen to play but it was a very wet wicket, and a number of us were out to balls that "I think we may have got near the 200 mark if we had finished, and with the bowling attack we had we would have stood a good chance of winning."

Cerne Valley 210-8 v Martinstown (match abandoned)

MARTINSTOWN had appeared to give themselves chance of victory after containing Cerne Valley to 210-8 in their allotted 45 overs.

The hosts were indebted to opener Simon Green who hit 78 of their total, whilst Danny Dancer (4-53) and Liam Banfield (3-34) were Martinstown's best

Unfortunately the weather closed in at tea preventing the visitors to even make a start in reply.

DIVISION FIVE

Ferndown Wayfarers 3rd 202 all out v Dorchester 3rd 35-1 (match abandoned)

As with many this finely balanced game was abandoned after tea, where 15-year-old Sam Roles (4-41), and 16-year-old Crispen Brown (3-28) bowled beautifully to put Dorchester in with a chance of winning.

Bridport 2nd P-P Blandford 3rd

BRIDPORT were awarded the points after Blandford 3rd's called the game off on Thursday as they were unable to raise a team.

DIVISION SEVEN

Crewkerne v Wimborne & Colehill 4th 120 all out (match abandoned)

CREWKERNE were left frustrated by the heavy afternoon rain as a good chance to secure their first league win of the season was lost.

Skipper Ashley Lawrence won the toss and inserted the hosts into bat and the decision was soon to pay dividends as the youthful visitors were reduced to 15-3, an excellent opening salvo from in particular Francis Medley (1-22), and Rob Cornelius (2-22) aided by a sharp catch from Geoff Carr put Crewkerne right on top from the off.

A solid stand between young opener Joe Williams (18) and Bridgen (24) frustrated Crewkerne though. before Robbie James (2-30) removed both in quick succession.

Some useful batting from father and son combination George Corbin (17) and Graham Corbin (26), plus James Williams (11) added some much needed runs, but Mark Culpitt (2-33) and in particular the experience and nagging length of Carr (3-11) helped oring proceedings to an end in the 37th over as the visitors were bowled out for 120.

The players left the field for an early tea, but alas never got back on. The dark clouds that had been looming all afternoon, finally opened in heavy fashion ensuring no further cricket to leave both teams frustrated by what would have been an interesting reply in damp conditions.

DIVISION EIGHT

Martinstown 2nd 195-9 v Sturminster & Hinton

THE game was abandoned at tea with Martinstown 2nd's having reached 195-9 in their allotted overs.

Dan Evans (44), Tom Bracey (31), Jack James (29) and an unbeaten 26 from Stu Dawson were the Skipper Bracey said: "It was frustrating as we looked good."

SUNDAY DIVISION FOUR

Symene 232-9 beat Winton 2nd 141 all out (reduced target 186) by 45 runs

THIS match survived the heavy rain that fell around 5.45pm with Winton already in trouble at 24-3.

Play resumed with a reduced target for the visitors, but Colin Willcox (3-23 from nine overs), Marcel Grunschloss (3-56 from eight) and Liam Toohill (2-37 from seven) saw that Symene remained undefeated despite a classy knock of 66 not out from Henry Seal.

Symene had to thank opener Phil Hawkins (46) who shared a third wicket stand of 68 with Grunschloss (48) and a fourth wicket partnership of 79 with Steve Prior (35) for their total.

Dorset disabled cricket news

THE Dorset Cricket for the disabled organisation held their annual meeting at the Y.M.C.A. in Dorchester recently.

The officers were returned into their previous posts; Leslie Phillips as President, Gordon Pickersgill as secretary /treasurer, Michael Chant as chairman and Mark Pickersgill as captain for the coming sea-

Other items discussed were; coaching in schools. an update of the County Championship and matches with the C.F.P.D. at Lords, Old Trafford, Newport (Cardiff), and Telford.

In March, the organisation took six Dorset players to Lords to play for England against Wales on the 14th March 2011.

Tom Griffith made his debut and made 25 runs, and then had to retire, in the morning match between players of more disabilities of which England beat Wales who batted first and made 123 all out with Michael Chant of Sherborne taking 4 for 19, England got the winning total for the loss of four

In the afternoon game Wales made 82 for 8 in 20 overs, England got the total with Steve Wiltshire of Bridport unbeaten on 27 and Callum Tucker on Charminster not out on 26. Therefore, Dorset had a major hand in England winning both matches.

When we went to Old Trafford on the 30th of April to take part in the England 'A' v Wales 'A' Zodiac and Zenith categories. In the morning game, six of our Dorset players took part in a pairs game, with two batsmen having four overs each.

Every player batted and bowled for England who batted first, making 128 for 4 in their allotted 20 overs with Tom Griffith making 25, Louis Mountain 18, Mark Pickersgill 15, Simon Penny 10, Michael Chant 8 and Jack Watkins 2.

In reply, Wales lost wickets regularly could only muster 68 losing 14 wickets all told. Tom Griffith took 3 for 2 in 2 overs, Mark Pickersgill took 2 for 10 in 2 overs, Louis Mountain took 1 for 5 of 2 overs and Jack Watkins took 1 for 8 in 2 overs.

The team now look forward to the County Championship, which starts on Sunday, May 15th with a home game against new team Kent.

Uplyme & LR 1st XI home v Kenn Devon League 1st XI Division E

(Match sponsors: Arthur Fordham & Co.)
DESPITE being restricted to just 117 all out Uplyme & Lyme Regis 1st XI skipper Ashley Caddy still felt his side were still-with in with a chance of an unlikely victory at the King George V playing field on Saturday.

But a torrential downpour put paid to the tricky looking run chase for visiting Kenn and the match was halted without a ball of the second innings being bowled.

"It certainly wasn't an easy wicket to bat on, I think our bowling attack would have caused them more than a few problems" said Caddy.

This weekend Caddy takes his side off to North Devon to take on Barnstaple-based Filleigh.

Uplyme & LR 2nd XI away v North Devon Devon League 2nd XI D Division East

(Match sponsors: Travis Perkins)

THE overlap of the football and cricket season's and the resulting unavailability of players and once again left Uplyme 2nd XI to make the journey to North Devon with only nine players writes Eddie Clarke.

Nevertheless, despite the handicap they almost pulled off a victory as North Devon scraped home by two wickets. Inserted on a slow wicket, Uplyme had to graft for their runs and young recruits James Dunford (19) and Henry Perry (28) put together a very patient 42 runs for the second

The mainstay of the effort was Dave Norman who remained unbeaten on 51. He was ably assisted by a bright 23 from Harvey Brimicombe.

A total of 163 seemed just below par for the wicket and so it proved. Despite a spell of 4 for 29 from Paddy Barraclough, another young player to join the Uplyme ranks this season, and a commendable effort of 13 overs, 2 for 18 from Mike Holding the visitors did not hang on to all of their catches and were unable to dismiss the tail enders who managed to scramble over the line with two overs to spare.

New captain Brian Rattenbury can be pleased with the efforts of his players. He has a good balance of youth and experience in his ranks and can look forward to the rest of the season with optimism

BOB BUCKLER RACING

And the winners keep coming!

AFTER a disappointing season by Bob Buckler's standards, the new national hunt year has seen a huge improvement in fortune for the Henley yard.

This week saw two more winners and a third place, with Ethiopia adding to his victory on the second day of the season, and Cullahill making it three wins out of five with the other two in the frame.

Ethiopia stormed home at Towcester in the Jacarado Retirement Handicap Chase over three miles on Monday evening to complete a trio of victories in just 24 days for the Nick Elliott owned eight-year-old.

Given a great ride by Nathan Sweeney, he tucked in behind the leaders before sweeping around the final bend to take command of the race, and powered up the hill to finish six lengths clear of Overton Lad.

"It was almost effortless and he jumped really well against a better class of runners," said Buckler who confirmed he may next go in a handicap chase on the same course on May 20th providing the handicapper is not too harsh on him following his win

Cullahill also had an easy victory at Wincanton last Thursday in the three horse Holbrook

House Restaurant & Spa Handicap Chase over the same distance at Wincanton last Thursday despite ripping off a front shoe.

This made the nine-year-old jump badly to the right particularly over a lot of the fences, particularly over the last three resulting in an unfortunate coming together with Cashel Blue with whom he was vying for the lead, who lost all his mo-

Cullahill kept going however to win by 16 lengths and incur a 13lb penalty from the handi-

"It was most unfortunate, but

I think he had the better of the other horse by then and would have won regardless.

Having ripped the shoe off, he would have been trying to protect his foot as he landed and resulted in him jumping to the Incredibly Mister Matt also ripped off a front shoe in the Jared Young Memorial Handicap Chaseover 2½ miles at Plumpton on Sunday which may have been the reason for a very poor show of jumping, and whilst he finished third 51/2 lengths behind Colin Tizzard's Health Is Wealth, he would surely have been closer, if not won the race had he been sound.

Buckler said: "He jumped appallingly, and we don't know why. He came home with a cut on the heel of the front leg with the ripped shoe which indicates it was probably self-inflicted by his rear leg striking it.

"He's a quite capable jumper, but the winner is an improving horse so whether he would have won the race is debatable, but he would have certainly been a lot closer."

Most horses have now been turned out for the summer, but next week Buckler gives his thoughts on last season

Sophie secures world title

LYME Regis golf club member Sophie Keech was one of 16 Millfield School golfers who headed off to South Africa to play in the World Schools Golf Challenge Tournament in Stellenbosch during the Easter Holidays.

For preparation the team stayed the first week at the Sun City Resort, near Johannesburg where they played the Lost City and Gary Player golf courses which set a strong challenge for the golfers before the second week in the World Schools Tournament.

The World Schools Golf Challenge is held over four golf courses around the Stellenbosch region of Cape Town-Stellenbosch, Erinvale, Devonvale and De Zalze. The courses have held prestigious tournaments in the past such as The South African Open, Masters and World Amateur Championships. The format for the event was stroke play and in teams of four, within which there was individual events for both boys and girls

Sophie made a huge impact on the event right from the start, and after day one she was joint first on the individual leaderborad.

From there on she played some consistent and outstanding golf to surge seven shots clear of her nearest rival at the end of the four rounds to become The World Schools Golf Challenge Champion for Girls. Her performance also helped her Millfield School team win the team event leaving Sophie with two gold medals.

Sophie, who also collected a bronze medal for coming 3rd in the team nett scores competition, travelled to South Africa a few days after winning the Dorset Ladies County Championship and flew back to England on her 15th birthday with another title under her belt, both events won at the age of 14!

Sophie said: "This tour was my first and I hope there will be many more ahead. It was a wonderful to experience the adventure of Safari and Table Mountain, as well as gaining experience playing golf courses in the South

"Winning seems so surreal but no doubt this will sink in when I recover from the excitement of the trip and settle

Millfield School did extremely well overall retaining the title of World Schools Challenge Champions, having won the team event when it was last played in Australia in Sophie is now preparing for her next big tournament in West Sussex where she plays in The English Women's Close Amateur Championship.

Lyme Regis Golf Club Ladies

THE ladies Medal was played on Thursday in swirling fog which threatened to close the course in mid-competition, but it never happened and some players came in with good scores writes Ellie Langford.

Jane Southcombe finished with a score of 68, and had birdies on holes 1, 4, 5 and 17. Diana Dick finished with a Nett 73 cutting her handicap from 18 to 17, and Monica Frost cut her handicap from 28 to 27 after scoring Nett 71.

Division 1: 1 Jane Southcombe 68; 2 Diana Dick 73; 3 Pat Hunt 74. Division 2: 1 Monica Frost 71; 2 Mary Rogers 73; 3Rhoda Elwick 74. Division 3: 1 Marlotte Howard 73; 2 Joy Madge 81: 3 Daphne Baker 82.

The ladies played their second friendly of the season against Bridport and West Dorset at home and I'm pleased to report that we won 5/3.

■ WORLD CHAMPION: Sophie Keech who won the recent World Schools Golf Challenge in South Africa.

The Seniors County Championships, a brand new competition, was held at Ashley Wood Golf Club near Bland ford. Lyme Regis was represented by Karen Ellis, Marion Hurley, Diana Dick, Julia Collins and Ellie Langford.

The players in the morning had to contend with cold windy conditions, a contrast to the warm weather we had become accustomed to recently, by the afternoon the wind eased and scores improved.

Lyme Regis had two players in the prizes, Ellie Langford was 4th best Gross with 86, and Julia Collins was 8th best

The Incapables win Lychett Plate

■ INCREDIBLE INCAPABLES: The Beaminster Ladies Hockey players who took part in the Lychett Sevens.

BEAMINSTER Ladies Hockey Club once again took part in the Lychett Sevens over the Easter weekend and came home with the Plate after two days of enjoyable hockey.

Unlike some of the opposition, they played in the festival spirit of fancy dress and fun, playing two sides of mixed ability and ages. Dressed as Super Heroes, modelling themselves on The Incredibles, they looked anything but on the first day. The 'A' team lost all their three games on the Sunday to competitive teams, but the 'B' team won, drew and lost one game. Although the 'A' team won the final round robin game on Monday, they only qualified for the loser's plate, but the 'B' team's draw saw them progress to the cup knock-out stages. Unfortunately they were eliminated in the first round and then lost play-off for fourth spot in their group.

Regular keeper Rachel Andrews played very well up front and scored a number of goals, whilst Phoebe Stewart, who took her place between the posts also had an excellent game

Meanwhile the 'A' team, playing much better than the day before won all their knockout matches with Julia May, Nikki Wright and Emma Davies scoring a hatful of goals, and won the plate with a 4-0 victory over Bournemouth in the final with Wright bagging all four.

Skipper Ali White set up a number of goals with great strikes out of defence, whilst Sarah Davies who played most of the games in the unaccustomed goalkeeper's role, was awesome with arms and legs going in all directions to great effect.

Vice-chairman Emma Davies, a member of the 'A' team, said: "It was as always, a most enjoyable weekend and like most teams played it in the right spirit. After our display on the Sunday we were renamed The Incapables!

Team squads:

'A': Julia May, Ali White, Nikki Wright, Sarah Davies, Emma Davies, Polly Davies, Charlotte Daniel, Toni

'B': Danni Donovan, Becki Craddock, Phoebe Stewart, Freyia Crawford, Rachel Andrews, Carol Bailey Emma Drewery, Harriet Hughes

WEYMOUTH RFC ROUND-UP

Successful festival weekend

Weymouth 19 HMS Portland 10

WEYMOUTH came out on top in the second annual fixture between against HMS Portland, running out worthy winners to level the series in a game played in the best sprits and ethos of rugby.

After 20 minutes of missed chances and brilliant defensive tackles it was the Weymouth man of the match Joe Gibson that broke the deadlock.

Picking up the ball on the Portland 22, he swopped passes with winger Max Baudouin before crossing the whitewash in the corner with scrum-half Nathan Allan adding the extras. Weymouth began to dominate and continued to pressurise the opposition into errors, and it was from one of these that Dean Parker scored when he chased down a kick which rebounded off him and he touched down in the corner with the conversion being missed.

HMS Portland made changes at the break and they were quickly awarded with a try in the corner but the missed the conversion.

The try of the game saw Craig Steel and David Stone turn over a Portland attack before the forwards forced their way up the pitch and were awarded a penalty ten metres out and flanker Will Hamlin scored under the posts with Nathan Allan adding the extras. HMS Portland added another try just before the end but it was too late to affect the result.

A special mention goes to Jamie Wrightson for his work on the pitch, and it was good to see the Weymouth team gel together; from the youngest player 17-year-old Lewis Allan to the over 50s pairing of John Beare and David Stone.

Weymouth chairman Glyn Arnold also featured for the winning team who said: "It was great to welcome the players from HMS Portland along to the club and to continue this annual event of good community rugby."

Weymouth Mini Rugby Festival

WEYMOUTH hosted a Mini Rugby Festival for the under 7-12 year age groups over the Easter weekend, with teams from all over the country joining Weymouth who were able to field teams in each age group.

Under 9s

The under 9s did very well over the two days, drawing three of them 1-1, and losing to the three teams that headed the round robin league Amersham (Lions and Tigers) and Llandaff in South-Wales; the Lions beating Llandaff 4-1 in the final.

Weymouth were able to field a large squad on the two days, which meant that they had the luxury of being able to rest players for halves of each game on what was a warm weekend.

There was a significant improvement in their play as the weekend wore on, as they took on board what the other teams were doing and learned from that.

There was also a collective sigh of appreciation from the coaching team as they saw the team apply a number of the techniques they had been working on over the season.

The Weymouth try scorers were Tyler Baker, William McLaren, and Kit Harvey. Although finishing fifth, this could have been improved if Redingensians hadn't scored in the dying seconds to snatch a draw.

Player-of-the-weekend was awarded to Harvey, who after a lay-off returned to the team full of enthusiasm and commitment. Rounding off his strong running and tackling with a try, he really set the standard for the weekend.

Under 129

WEYMOUTH U12s found themselves in a fast and furious tournament playing five teams twice over two days.

They started well against a well drilled and organised Salisbury 'A' side, and strong defending kept Weymouth in touch, but ended in a 2-0 defeat.

In their next match Weymouth were caught out on three occasions by fast and fluent attacks by Redingensians and finally lost 4-0

Weymouth raised their game against Salisbury 'B' and started well, but finding themselves behind they increased their urgency and came close to scoring on a number of occasions playing more attacking rugby, but lost 3-0.

Royston, a strong and physical side were next and Weymouth finally got onto to the score sheet with a well worked try, but eventually went down 4-1.

However they saved their best performance of the day to the last match against Chesham where a combination of strong running and physicality saw them draw 1-1.

The following day they started slowly and lost 4-0 to Salisbury 'A', before the Redingensians took a quick two try advantage before Weymouth stepped up their game and managed to stem the flow, conceding a try at the death.

Weymouth were now playing with pride and passion, and went on to play some good rugby although unfortunately losing to Salisbury 'B' and Royston 3-0 and 2-0 respectively, but finally tasted victory in the last game by beating Chesham 2-1 with tries by Tyler Craig and Conner Hughes.

Weymouth 2nd XV 0 Salisbury 50

DESPITE a good effort Weymouth lost to the better side on the day, but shouldn't be downhearted as this was the second year running that they had appeared in the final.

There was some good tackling and performances on the pitch from all the players but Kevin Leatham was the outstanding Weymouth player for his shear work rate.

Ideal conditions for first windsurfing event

THE WEYMOUTH and Portland National Sailing Academy hosted the first event of the UK Windsurfing Association's 2011 Cup Series

There was plenty of anticipation for high wind speeds essential to ultimate board sailing conditions which have been sparse this spring on British waters, and they weren't disappointed with the wind delivering gusts of 30 knots for nearly 100 competitors to complete the massive 12 race series across four different race fleets.

Racing took place across the full range of windsurfing disciplines including the Olympic RSX class, youth based Techno fleet as well as the Raceboard and Formula fleets. Three discards were granted per fleet which aided those with rogue high scoring races to stay up in the pole positions overall.

Final results saw David Hackford take first place in the Raceboard fleet of 20 board sailors. In the Techno Fleet – under 17 class – Keiran Martin flew home to win a massive 11 points clear of second placed Adam Purcell. Rich Jones was also a clear winner of the Formula Fleet with consistent performance at the front of the fleet.

In the highly competitive RSX Fleet top calibre windsurfing produced Sam Sills as the victor with 13 points and first female went to Jade Rogers in a very credible ninth position within the top ten standings overall.

John Tweed, Chief Executive of the Weymouth and Portland National Sailing Academy, said: 'The waters of Weymouth and Portland set the stage for the windsurfing events of the 2012 Olympiad.

"It is especially important to make sure both in the lead up to, and after the Games that the waters here are available for all windsurfers across different classes and abilities to enjoy during course racing, slalom and speed racing events.

"There were perfect conditions for the board sailors here during the event and there was some great competitive racing."

Two in a row for Bees

BRIDPORT'S Under 13s retained their Dorchester Town Football Club six-aside Tournament title by remaining undefeated throughout the day; only drawing one game and conceding just one goal.

It was a tough tournament with entries from Weymouth, Dorchester and Bournemouth, but Bridport played some superb passing football and thoroughly deserved their success with some great performances from all players who interchanged positions throughout the day.

Joe Mace McKenney was superb in goal, whilst Matthew Ward, Dylan Allen and Lewis Middleton were very strong at the back.

strong at the back. Rhys Hayter was outstanding and with Jon Paul Avery bossed the midfield, whilst Liam Sayers top scored on the day, including a superb winning goal in the final.

The team followed up their success at Dorchester by also winning the Chickerell united Tournament on Sunday.

Bridport did not concede agoal from open play throughout the competition and, after beating Weymouth Terras in a penalty shoot-out in the semi-final, defeated the Terras' other team in the Final thanks to a goal from Liam Sayers.

Whilst the club are confident that Oldland Abbotonians will be barred from taking their place in the Premier League next season, having beaten the Bees for the runners-up spot, they are not certain what decision the committee will take in respect of replacing them.

The Abbots play at the Aitchison Playing Field to the east of Bristol but do not have floodlights, one of the mandatory requirements for the Premier Division.

The rules state that any side looking for promotion to the Premier League shall have all facilities in place by March 31st of the season prior to inclusion; something they clearly do not have.
